From the Pastor's Desk

A sincere thank you: to all those who are doing "advance" work to help Ms. Hale get ready for the festival; to those who have already signed up to volunteer; to Mel Lucas for planting flowers in front of the church....please contact local officials about the re-installation of the cross-walk, it is a public safety issue, and I encourage all to write to the appropriate officials about the safety of our state lands and our water table, under assault from Marcellus shale drilling....I am still looking for someone who would like to devise a plan for re-cycling of cardboard, bottles, plastics...we already pay Waste Management close to $400.00 a month to remove the dumpster twice a week....we need a site to which we can transfer these other items....we pray for peace in the world, an end to all war and hostilities, a safe return of our troops, and success in containing the oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico.....

Happy Father's Day to all our Fathers!

Father Pribonic

Scripture Reflection

In Paul’s letter to the Galatian Christians, for example, he gives an outstanding summary of his preaching ministry in a single sentence, “In Christ there is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female; for all one in Christ Jesus.” Make no mistake about it, these words are radical in the first century. In these pairs of words, Paul staked out a path for the Church to travel, but it would take centuries for the Church to make the entire journey, Paul spent most of his entire life helping the Church work through just that first pair of words, the question of how Christians from Jewish background and those from Gentile backgrounds could be united equally in the Church of Jesus Christ. Just preaching and teaching that one insight landed Paul in jail more than any other single issue. It was radical thinking for his day, and went against the grain of centuries of deeply entrenched religious teaching, both Jewish and pagan, designed to keep the religious tradition separate and pure.

There are those who fault Paul for not coming down harder on the issue of equality for women, or for saying very little to overthrow the institution of slavery. We know his heart on both of these subjects from this one summary statement to the Galatians, and he leaves plenty of hints about the proper treatment and role for women and servants here and there, but there is only so much a person can accomplish in a single lifetime, and only so much culture is prepared to endure at one time. If Paul had also tried to establish the Christian Church in first century Roman culture as a once of radical gender equality, and a people mobilized to overthrow slavery, the Church would have been viewed as a radical subversive cult, and might not have survived a single generation. It was radical enough just to set up the Church where Jew and Greek could share equal footing and even that stance cost Paul his life.

Did the disciples grasp what Jesus was saying that first day? Certainly not. Nor would they fully grasp it in the months to follow, even though Jesus reinforced the point over and over again. Only after the resurrection of Christ, and the coming of the Holy Spirit, would the disciples be ready to live fully and even die victoriously, in this insight. It was slow learning, to be sure, but sometimes slow is the best speed, and the only way for learning to last. Don’t worry, God is a patient teacher.

Dear Joan:

This list reminded me of a sign posted at the Church of the Beatitudes which specifies no pets, no shorts, no talking, no eating, no weapons and no smoking.

- 1) Ban t-shirts advertising beer, bands or teams at Mass. Christ deserves better.
- 2) No shorts....its God’s house, not the beach.
- 3) Make room for late comers...you don’t have to give up the end seat, but make room.
- 4) “LIFO!” The priest should be the last in and the first out. Come on time, stay to the end.
- 5) SING!
- 6) ENCOURAGE full and active participation.
- 7) Don’t have priest’s chair in front of the tabernacle.
- 8) Please keep cry room for kids that might disturb others.
- 9) Make sure people know that it’s wrong to chew gum in church.
- 10) Remind people about turning off their cell PHONES and NO TEXTING!
- 11) People wearing heavy perfumes and colognes and those allergic to them.
- 12) PROPER WAY TO RECEIVE COMMUNION.
- 13) KIDS AND THEIR TRIPS TO THE BATHROOM....GO BEFORE MASS.

The list could go on, but the message is the same:

TREASURE THE GIFT WITH RESPECT!

Love & Prayers,
Father Ray
